Shady Parks of
City Appeal to
Picnic PartiesSteady Round of Events
Takes Place at Lorin
Farr Park

During the last week Ogden's Lorin Farr park has gained wide popularity with Ogden picnickers, for on every afternoon and evening the park has been crowded with merry groups of grown folks, young folks and children. Still gaining in popularity the days of the coming week have been set aside for festivals.

Beginning with Monday afternoon, when the Missionary society of the First Presbyterian church held their annual picnic, every afternoon has brought parties to the grounds. For most of the events held was that of last Wednesday afternoon, when the ladies' auxiliary to the Railway Mail association held a picnic special for the children. Over forty of the small folks gathered for the occasion. Special games were enjoyed with kood fun, and all were treated to rides on the ever popular merry-go-round and the miniature train. Late in the afternoon a luncheon was served to the delight of all. The women are planning to have another party during the first of August for the adults.

Although Lorin Farr park has claimed the attention of numerous picnickers, Ogden canyon has also appealed to many. With baskets packed to the top with good things, parties have sought the cool and shady spots in the canyon, where afternoons have been spent in quiet enjoyment. Summer breezes and the splashing of water have added to the delight of these trips. Other parties are also planning trips to the mountains during the coming week.
